Design in Melbourne For Australian

Through years of working with Australian hardwood species and distributing timber products nationwide, we have gained profound expertise in the timber industry in Australia. From design to completion, our deep understanding of timber allows us to deliver exceptional quality and craftsmanship, tailored to meet the specific needs of the Australian market and serving environment.

Natural Beauty
Timeless Elegance

The floorboards in this brochure are taken from actual selling packages. As timber is a natural product, variations in color and batch differences may occur. While we strive to ensure the images are as accurate as possible, discrepancies may still be present. This brochure is for reference purposes only, and exact color representation cannot be guaranteed due to variations in screen displays, printing processes, and natural characteristics of the timber.
